

FELLOWSHIP

Near Now Fellowship 2018 - 2019
Open Call

Deadline: Tuesday 12 June 2018, 12 noon

NEAR NOW

broadway
CINEMA | CAFE BAR | NOTTINGHAM

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL
ENGLAND

Helping pioneers explore and realise bold new ideas.

Applications to the Near Now Fellowship are open from Tuesday 1 May 2018 to Tuesday 12 June 2018.

Based in Nottingham (UK), Near Now is Broadway's studio for arts, design and innovation. We work with artists to make, and make sense of, technology in everyday life.

The Near Now Fellowship is our artistic and professional development programme which, through curiosity and discovery, helps pioneering artists to explore and realise bold ideas.

Broadway (credit: ICO)

Applications are invited from artists, working in any art form, who use technology in their practice and/or explore the place and impact of technology in everyday life.

Near Now Fellows will display exceptional artistic talent and ambition, with work influenced by art, design and technology.

Fellows will critically reflect on their work and have a desire to challenge their practice and push their career forward.

What's on offer?

The Near Now Fellowship is a twelve month programme which offers:

- Time and resources for you to focus on your artistic and professional practice and test ideas for new work founded on rigorous research.
- An opportunity to exhibit your work in Broadway's Gallery.
- A Creative Producer working closely with you to advise and support the research, development and showcasing of work originating from the Fellowship.
- Support in identifying and approaching other sources of finance, collaboration, commissioning and showcasing opportunities to develop your work.
- Access to mentoring from practitioners from Near Now's existing networks or identified by Fellows.
- The opportunity for you to join our growing community of Fellows.

We will offer over £20k in support of each Fellow's work.

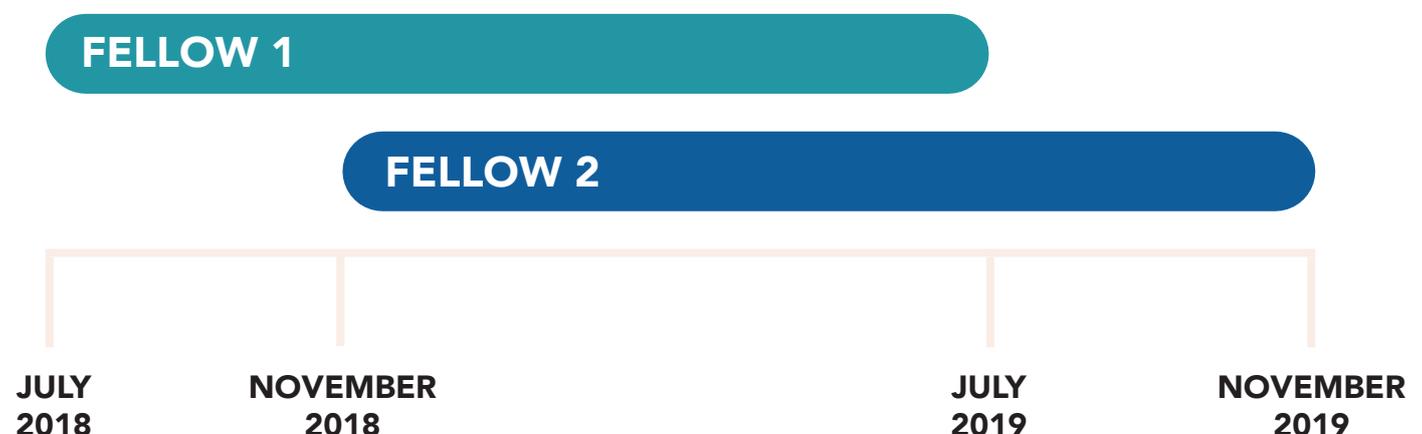

Each Fellow will receive:

- £6000 research and development stipend.
- £750 exhibition payment.
- £3000 towards production costs to showcase work emerging from the Fellowship.
- Paid travel, accommodation and catering costs during residency periods at Broadway.
- Further financial support towards R&D resources, exhibition costs, materials, research trips, documentation, mentor and collaborator fees.
- Access to 'follow-on' support from Near Now beyond the Fellowship period.

The Fellowship is a twelve month programme.

The Fellowship start dates are staggered with six-month intervals.

In this round of applications two fellowships will be awarded.

Key dates

- Call open: Tuesday 1 May 2018
- Deadline for applications: Tuesday 12 June 2018, 12 noon
- Interviews: 26 and 27 June 2018 *
- Fellow 1: July 2018 - July 2019
- Fellow 2: November 2018 - November 2019

 You must be available on at least one of the dates set for the interviews.*

Support to pay for travel costs associated with attending interviews will be provided by Near Now.

What's expected of you?

As a Near Now Fellow, you will be expected to originate and publicly present work that is bold in its scope, rigorous in its practice and is open to critique.

The planned artistic outcome during the twelve months is the research and development of an ambitious new work that can advance your practice and progress your career beyond the Fellowship.

You will achieve this by actively pushing critical, creative and technical possibilities, and by considering the impact of your work within the everyday.

You will be expected to:

- Dedicate 28 days to the Fellowship, with some of this time spent in residency in Nottingham.
- Publicly document your ideas, research and progression using the Near Now website and other online platforms of your choice.
- Agree to your work, practice and progress being filmed to create a resource for a short film to document your Fellowship (see Insight Film below).
- Participate in a mid-point review and an end-point evaluation.
- Credit Near Now, Broadway and Arts Council England during the Fellowship and in perpetuity in relation to the work originating and emerging from the Fellowship.

You will also support us in increasing opportunities for people to experience and be inspired by the arts by taking part in public engagement activity centered around your practice and Near Now's focus on arts, design and innovation. Including:

- A showcase/exhibition of your existing work, accompanied by a talk, providing context for your artistic practice and proposed area(s) of research and development.
- A workshop that will provide an opportunity for the public to learn from your skills, knowledge and experience.
- A showcase/open studio event that will present the culmination of the development of your artistic practice and the work that emerges from your Fellowship. This will be designed to best suit your work at its particular stage of development and could be, for example (but not limited to), an exhibition, a performance, a prototype, a service, a product, an experience or screen-based content.

Insight Film

To document your Fellowship, we will commission the creation of a short film that will give insight into your practice and the wider context of your work.

The creative style of the film will be led by you and co-produced by Near Now with a commissioned filmmaker.

Eligibility

To be eligible to apply you must:

- Be an artist based in England and eligible to work in the UK.
- Not be in full-time or part-time education during the period of the Fellowship.

We particularly welcome and encourage applications from artists with diverse experiences, perspectives and backgrounds which are essential for innovation to thrive and for new ideas to emerge.

How to apply

Deadline for applications:
Tuesday 12 June 2018, 12noon

Complete the online application form at:

nearnow.org.uk/fellowship

Applications received after the deadline will not be considered.

Unfortunately, due to the anticipated high volume of applications we are unable to offer feedback to applicants who are not shortlisted.

Application questions

The questions featured in the online application form, other than those related to eligibility and contact details, are detailed below. We strongly recommend that you write and save your responses offline before completing the online form.

Q9. CV and Biographical Statement

Please upload a CV listing relevant experience, project & exhibition history, contact details, two references and a brief biographical statement. Size limit: 10MB.

Q10. Portfolio

Please upload a portfolio in .pdf format and/or links to an online portfolio or websites (see next question), which should include images and other relevant documentation of your work. Size limit: 10MB.

If you are providing video or sound documentation please make sure to include links to this in your portfolio, accompanied by passwords for any password protected content.

Q11-12. Relevant links

Please provide a link to a relevant online portfolio or website.

Q13. Statement of interest

Please provide a brief statement of interest on applying for the Near Now Fellowship addressing the following questions (no more than 1500 characters per question).

- What are you hoping to explore during your Fellowship? (What is the research and early-stage development of an ambitious new work that you are proposing?)
- How does your proposal for the Near Now Fellowship relate to your current experience and existing body of work and how will it push forward your practice and career?

- How do you imagine that the work emerging from the Fellowship might be staged in a showcase/ open studio event (or other experience)?
- What is your proposed format and content for a practical workshop open to the public?

Q14. Which Fellowship period would be your preferred choice?*

The Fellowship start dates are staggered with six-month intervals. In this round of applications two fellowships will be awarded. Please select your preference.

- July 2018 - July 2019
- November 2018 - November 2019
- Either (no preference)

On submitting your application, you will be invited to complete an Equality Monitoring Form.

Selection criteria

Your application should include sufficient information for assessment on the following criteria:

- The quality of your previous work
- The ambition and feasibility of the ideas within your proposed areas of research and development and the relevance to the Near Now programme’s areas of interest.
- The relevance of a Fellowship in relation to your current experience and to your ongoing artistic and professional development.

Support

We’ll be hosting a series of online chats and meetups in partner venues across the country as an opportunity for you to find out more about the Near Now Fellowship ahead of submitting an application. Near Now’s Creative Producer, Lee Nicholls, will be on hand to answer any questions you may have about the Fellowship programme and the application process.

See nearnow.org.uk/fellowship for up-to-date information about these application support sessions.

Please note: spaces at these events may be limited. Please follow @nearnow on Twitter or subscribe to Fellowship Alerts on our website to hear about more meetup dates and locations as these are confirmed.

Broadway wishes to make the application process accessible to everyone. If you experience any barriers within the application process or require help to make an application please contact us at: 0115 850 7818 or nearnow@broadway.org.uk.

Broadway’s Near Now Fellowship is supported using public funding by Arts Council England.

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL
 ENGLAND